

Milkweed

Milkweed, or asclepias, is a major pollinator in North America with about 115 different species and can grow up to 5 feet tall! The Milkweed's most important pollinators include bees, wasps, and butterflies.

